Enterprise Community Partners (New York)

Enterprise is a national non-profit that exists to make a good home possible for the millions of families without one. They support community development organizations on the ground, aggregate and invest capital for impact, advance housing policy at every level of government, and build and manage communities themselves.

Since 1982, they have invested $92 billion and created 1.1 million homes across all 50 states, the District of Columbia, Puerto Rico and the U.S. Virgin Islands – all to make home and community places of pride, power and belonging.

What They Do

- Community Development Financial Institution (CDFI)
- Policy
- Advisory Services and Technical Assistance
- Development, Property Management, and Resident Services

Eligibility for Faith-Based Development Initiative

Faith-based organizations interested in transforming underutilized land into affordable housing and community facilities are eligible.

How Faith Institutions Benefit

- Grants and capital help houses of worship advance their projects from vision to completion.
- Training aims for faith-based organizations to become “comfortably conversant” on development, to understand and navigate the development process.
- Technical assistance and tools address project-specific challenges and help navigate the development process.
- Peer-to-peer learning advances projects and engages faith leaders in advocacy for affordable housing and community development.
- Access experts including developers, architects and designers, real estate lawyers, and development consultants.

How to Apply / Next Steps

- Connect with the New York office for local support.
- Request technical assistance, national summit information, and/or local training.
- Explore available funding and resources online for faith-based organizations. (enterprisecommunity.org/impact-areas/preservation-and-production/faith-based-development)
